

AWARDING SCHOLARSHIP/ FINANCIAL AID

---

Upon completing the federal/state financial aid application file, the Saint Louis University Office of Student Financial Services reviews a student's application for award eligibility. Financial Services assembles a financial aid offer based on all pertinent regulations, academic standing, eligible programs and funds availability.

If the Office of Student Financial Services believes certain eligibility items are suspect, incomplete or inconsistent, all such items must be resolved, corrected and/or updated as appropriate before a student will be eligible to be paid any federal/state aid. If aid eligibility changes result due to the verification/audit process, the student will be informed of these changes through a revised award notification or notification to review changes in MySLU.

If a student receives any federal or state aid based on incorrect information, awarded assistance may have to be adjusted. If fraud is suspected, the student will be informed of the procedures they will have to complete to resolve the suspicion. Failure to comply will result in the student's case being referred to the Student Validation Branch of the U.S. Department of Education.

Other Scholarships and Financial Aid

Recipients of scholarships and financial aid from SLU must notify the Office of Student Financial Services of any other scholarships, grants, loans or employment offered to them from all sources outside or within the University. Failure to do so will result in the cancellation of all or a portion of the award. In addition, the University reserves the right to make warranted changes in a scholarship and financial aid package whenever necessary.

Personal Status Changes

Any change in name, address, aid sources, enrollment or other changes to student status must be reported immediately to the Office of Student Financial Services.

Changes in a family's financial circumstances may be submitted to the Office of Student Financial Services at any time for review to receive consideration for assistance adjustments.