

ENGLISH, MINOR

The English minor at Saint Louis University is student-centered, with small, writing-intensive courses that emphasize discussion, close reading and critical thinking.

SLU's English minors take courses in traditional literary fields (including American, British and world literatures), as well as innovative and emergent areas of English studies (such as new media, rhetoric and creative writing). English minors develop imaginative engagements with different time periods and cultures and effective analytical thinking and writing skills throughout their coursework.

Requirements

Students must complete a minimum total of 15 credits for the minor.

Code	Title	Credits
Required Courses
ENGL 3000	Encountering English	3
ENGL 3020	Shapes of English	3
ENGL 4140	Reading & Writing Justice	3
Elective Courses
ENGL 2XXX or ENGL 3XXX course		3
ENGL 4XXX course		3
Total Credits		15

Continuation Standards

Students must complete all English courses with a grade of C or higher in order to count for English minor requirements and to continue in the minor.

Madrid

The English minor complements every degree program at SLU-Madrid. Minors hone their verbal communication skills through extensive practice in writing and engaging with the literary masterpieces of the English language. Find out more about SLU-Madrid's programs (<https://www.slu.edu/madrid/>) here.
