

WOMEN'S AND GENDER STUDIES, POST-BACCALAUREATE CERTIFICATE

The post-baccalaureate certificate in women's and gender studies at Saint Louis University is designed to offer adult learners the opportunity to earn a graduate credential in the field through part-time study.

The certificate provides professional development opportunities for individuals seeking to enhance their expertise on issues relating to women, gender and sexuality. SLU's program offers an interdisciplinary education about contemporary social justice issues, preparing students for leadership and advocacy roles. It is particularly suited for working professionals employed in areas such as education, business, government, student services, social services, advocacy and the nonprofit arena.

Curriculum Overview

The certificate requires the successful completion of nine credits (three courses), distributed among theory, practice and elective categories.

Fieldwork and Research Opportunities

Students can complete a graduate-level internship under the supervision of a faculty member.

Careers

The certificate offers development opportunities for professionals employed in education, business, government, student services, social services, advocacy and nonprofits.
