

PROJECT MANAGEMENT, MINOR

Build practical project management skills that complement your major and prepare you to contribute to today's fast-paced, team-driven environments with the Project Management Minor at Saint Louis University's School for Professional Studies.

This 18-credit minor provides foundational knowledge in project planning, execution, and delivery while introducing key concepts from the Project Management Body of Knowledge (PMBOK®), including initiating, planning, executing, monitoring and controlling, and closing. Students also gain exposure to Agile frameworks that support adaptability, collaboration, and continuous improvement in modern organizations.

Designed to enhance a wide range of academic disciplines, this minor equips students with valuable skills in organization, communication, problem-solving, and teamwork that can be applied across industries.

As part of the School for Professional Studies, the program offers a flexible pathway for students seeking to strengthen their professional profiles and gain practical, career-relevant project management experience.
